It was further ordered that upon release from imprisonment the defendant be placed on supervised release for a period of 36 months.

Robert Ladrach was released from custody on September 17, 2014, at which time the term of supervised release commenced. Jurisdiction was transferred to the Eastern District of North Carolina on September 25, 2015.

If the defendant is unemployed, the defendant shall perform 1,400 hours of community service per year of supervised release as monitored by the U.S. Probation Officer. If the defendant is employed part-time, the defendant shall perform a pro-rated number of community service hours per year of supervised release as determined and monitored by the U.S. Probation Officer, be removed.

Except as herein modified, the judgment shall remain in full force and effect.
